

Press Release

EuPC and Spanish ANAIP stage Annual Meeting in June 2017 together

On the occasion of the 60th anniversary of ANAIP and the annual meeting of EuPC, the Spanish Association of Plastics Converters (ANAIP) and the European Plastics Converters (EuPC) will join hands in staging the European plastic industry's largest event 2017 in Madrid, June 1-2. The two associations, representing plastics converters at both national and European level, will bring over 200 plastics converters from all over Europe together during two days of conferences, debates, and networking opportunities. Markets Divisions meetings will focus on packaging, automotive and construction.

During the conference, high-level Spanish and European government representatives as well as industry and brand owners will offer participants insider knowledge and drive exchange on latest industry trends. Framing the debate will be the theme "A Circular Future with Plastics", based on the ever growing importance of waste prevention, reuse and recycling. "This comes fitting in a year where major European policy developments on the circular economy are expected to unfold" Alexandre Dangis, EuPC Managing Director finds". Luis Cediell, Managing Director ANAIP agrees: "The current strength of the Spanish plastics industry provides a solid basis for our collaboration".

ICEX, the Spanish Institute for Foreign Trade, will serve as conference venue. On Thursday evening, a gala dinner at the renowned Royal Theatre Madrid will give stage to the "Best Polymer Suppliers & ANAIP Awards", the highlight of an event to be remembered.
